Teaching Handwriting

(A Course for English Subject Leaders & Teachers)

Date: Thursday 22nd November 2018
Venue: Madeleine Lindley, 9 Broadgate, Chadderton, Oldham OL9 9XA
Time: 9.00am to 3.45pm
Cost: £150 per participant, includes refreshments, lunch and conference pack

SUMMARY

Designed for those responsible for handwriting, this course will examine the rules and how best to teach them so that children develop fluent and legible handwriting, in the context of the statutory requirements across all Key Stages.

Also included:

- best practice in the leadership of handwriting
- a brief focus on handwriting difficulties typically seen and strategies for overcoming them.

About the trainers: Both Emma and Michelle have completed the National Handwriting Association's 5 day course on teaching handwriting; and are experienced class teachers and school leaders. In addition to working in a variety of settings supporting schools to improve attainment and achievement in Literacy, Emma is a KS1 Moderator, licensed Talk for Writing Trainer, and author of the teacher's handbook 'Planning to Teach Writing'. Michelle is a school improvement consultant working across Yorkshire and the North West, she is a KS1 and KS2 Moderator, a 'First Steps' tutor, and co-author of 'TELL' (DfE approved phonic intervention).
